

Task 1: Read the story and write the ending which you think may happen in 3 to 4 sentences.

It was Saturday, the day of Veronica’s 15th birthday party, and she was so excited she could hardly keep still. She had spent the whole morning decorating her house with streamers and balloons. She had set the table with matching plates, cups and napkins. Best of all she had baked and iced cupcakes with names for each of her friends and family, without anyone else’s help.

Veronica’s little 3 years old brother Jason was his usual bouncy self. “Happy birthday, Veronica,” he yelled, running around the kitchen and waving a balloon he’d turn down from the wall, where Veronica had taped it up.

“Calm down,” she ordered. Jason’s jumping was making the counters tremble and Veronica feared her cupcakes would fall on the floor. “Get out of here and quit tearing down my decorations as I won’t give the cupcakes I made for you.”

“I got a cupcake, Yay!” Jason shouted, bouncing around as boisterously as ever.

“Stop it, Jason, you’ll ruin everything!” Veronica wailed. Jason didn’t stop. Finally, Veronica _____

Task 2. Create any two stronger beginning sentences to replace in the story above.

1. Use a question
2. Use an onomatopoeia
3. Use a dialogue

Story source: <https://www.education.com/worksheet/article/rochelles-bday-surprise/>

Image source: <https://www.taste.com.au/recipes/gluten-egg-free-unicorn-cupcake-lolly-cups/ocidhd>
<https://www.amazon.com/Personalized-Cupcake-Toppers-Individual-Names/dp/B0797V1K56>